PROGRAM OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of this conference, participants should be able to:
➢ Discuss current management techniques and treatments available for different geriatric conditions;
➢ Recognize methods for providing culturally competent care and addressing the needs of underserved, vulnerable elderly;
➢ Describe elements to address within the care coordination process;
➢ Employ geriatric medicine principles for maximizing patient health and enhancing patient care;
➢ Identify techniques for incorporating health technology and the use of telehealth in the provision of care.

TARGET AUDIENCE
The target audience for this activity includes health care professionals who care for older adults, including physicians, registered nurses, nurse practitioners, pharmacists, physical and occupational therapists, and social workers. The content covered during this symposium will be applicable within multiple settings, particularly within acute, post-acute, long-term care, palliative and home environments.

ACCREDITATION
The University of California, San Diego School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of California, San Diego School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of \textit{13.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™}. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

AAPA accepts certificates of participation for educational activities certified for \textit{AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™} from organizations accredited by the ACCME or a recognized state medical society. Physician assistants may receive a maximum of \textit{13.5} hours of Category 1 credit for completing this program.

For the purpose of recertification, the American Nurses Credentialing Center accepts \textit{AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™} issued by organizations accredited by the ACCME. For the purpose of relicensure, the California Board of Registered Nursing accepts \textit{AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™} (report up to \textit{13.5} hours of credit and list “CME Category 1” as the provider number).

The California Board of Pharmacy accepts as continuing education for pharmacists coursework which meets the standard of relevance to pharmacy practice and is accepted as continuing education by the Medical Board of California.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW
Please join the UC San Diego Division of Geriatrics for our Third Annual Clinical Geriatrics Interprofessional Symposium. This weekend course will address core issues in geriatrics, such as memory disorders, falls, and polypharmacy, with this year’s event to include a focus on advances in health technology, care coordination, preventive care, and providing culturally competent healthcare. This course is intended for an interprofessional audience, with sessions applicable to individuals working in multiple settings. The conference will include a variety of lectures, case studies, and breakout sessions, with an opportunity for participant engagement and discussion.

CULTURAL AND LINGUISTIC COMPETENCY
This activity is in compliance with California Assembly Bill 1195 which requires continuing medical education activities with patient care components to include curriculum in the subjects of cultural and linguistic competency. Cultural competency is defined as a set of integrated attitudes, knowledge, and skills that enables health care professionals or organizations to care effectively for patients from diverse cultures, groups, and communities. Linguistic competency is defined as the ability of a physician or surgeon to provide patients who do not speak English or who have limited ability to speak English, direct communication in the patient’s primary language. Cultural and linguistic competency was incorporated into the planning of this activity. Additional resources can be found on the UC San Diego CME website [cme.ucsd.edu].
